

LARGE HOPEWELL KNIFE

by
John Mocio
Dilles Bottom, OH

This 5½ inch Hopewell knife was found in May 2010. It was discovered on a knoll on the eastern end, the Muskingum County portion of the “Ridge” on a small rise. It, of course, is made of Flint Ridge flint and the site where it was found revealed a good bit of classic Flint Ridge debris.

Figure 1 (Mocio) Flint Ridge knife 5½ inches long found on Flint Ridge.

Back Cover:

Shown in full size is a flat type three-quarter grooved axe. Made of gray-green granite, it was found a mile south of Yellow Springs, Greene County, Ohio.